Unmarried Men and Widowers From 20 to 22 Will be Called to the Colors Immediately

Ottawa, April 19.—The passing of the military manpower resolution by parliament will be followed by the calling to the colors of the unmarried men and widowers from 20 to 22 years old, both inclusive and who have been granted exemption.

All exemptions in these cases will be cancelled. As the men to be called were included in Class I required to report for service or claim exemption by the proclamation issued last October, no further proclamation will be necessary. The course followed will probably be the same as was adopted when category (b) men were called up—each man will be notified by the registrar, when and where he is to report for duty.

Meeting to Discuss Question of Consolidated Schools

Everybody interested in Consolidated Schools should be present at the meeting in the Co-op hall next Wednesday evening, May 1st at 8 o'clock. The question of consolidation of schools is one that is receiving attention all over the province at this time. This question has been pretty thoroughly discussed in these columns for weeks past so it is not entirely new to our readers. The time is coming soon when the question must be settled in Irma and next Wednesday evening it will be reviewed. Consolidated schools are not an experiment in this province as over forty are already in operation and are giving satisfaction and getting results. One thing is certain and that is that consolidated schools give better educational opportunities to country pupils by the concentration of several school districts into one where added facilities and better methods of teaching can be carried on. Should the pupils of the Irma district be denied the opportunities that are being given pupils of other districts? Come to the meeting Wednesday and talk it over.

Oddfellows Plan Big Doings For Victoria Day

The Irma Branch of Odd Fellows have arranged to hold a picnic on the Agricultural Ground, Irma on May 24. The odd thing about the Odd Fellows is that they have an odd way about them when entertaining that takes with the public and when they undertake to do anything in this line it is any odds that they make a success of it, so if you want a real good day be sure to be there. Baseball and all kinds of sports are arranged for. Do not be odd man out and stay away.

First Men of the New Draft Will Be Called to the Colors Beginning Early Next Week

Ottawa, April 23.—The first of the new drafts of men called will join the colors early next week. Instructions have already been issued to all registrars under the Military Service Act that exemptions in class one of men between twenty and twenty-two years of age inclusive are cancelled. The men will now be notified by the registrars to report for duty upon a specified date.

In each district the men will be called up in batches as required by the general officer commanding that military district, and as they can be handled by the military authorities.

Seven days will generally be allowed to a man in which to settle up private affairs before reporting for service.

Local Committee Takes Charge of Soldiers of Soil

Mr. A. L. Caldwell representing the Soldiers of the Soil Movement was in town Tuesday calling on the business men with the view of organizing a local committee to take charge of the movement in this district.

A meeting was held in the Irma Co-op in the afternoon when Mr. Caldwell explained the movement which has been outlined in this paper in previous issues as being a dominion wide movement to enlist boys from the age of 15 to 19 years to work on farms during the summer and fall months. After a thorough discussion the following committee was appointed:

W. H. Madden, Chairman.
J. W. Wyatt, Secretary.
Committee: H. W. Love, R. J. Tate, and H. C. Hockin.

Farmers who can use boys from the ages of 15 to 19 years of age for work during the busy season should make application at once so that headquarters will know how many boys to enlist. Mr. Caldwell stated that about 1000 boys have enlisted in the movement in Alberta and 95 percent of them have had previous experience with handling horses and have worked on farms.

Application blanks and all information may be had by applying to any member of the above local committee who will be glad to assist any of the farmers needing the services of these "Soldiers of the Soil". As has been stated before it is very necessary to make application at once.

Big Drive For Military Y.M.C.A. May 7, 8, & 9

On May 7, 8, and 9 there will be a Dominion wide campaign to raise funds for the Military Y.M.C.A. and every city and town has been organized for that purpose. $2,225,000.00 is wanted and $600 of this huge sum has been allotted to Irma to raise. Can we raise it? Say, just watch us go "over the top."

Officers appointed for Y.M.C.A. Campaign Committee: J.W. Wyatt Chairman, W. H. Madden Treas., R. J. Tate Sec'y; Finance and List Committee: W. H. Madden, R. J. Tate and A. A. Dickson. Publicity and Meeting Committee: H. W. Love, J. W. Wyatt and H. C. Hockin.

The district will be thoroughly canvassed and everybody is expected to do not only their bit, but their best.

Prices on Cigars and Cigarettes Take Jump

Cigarettes went up in price Monday. The one commodity which has remained stationary in price since the beginning of the war will at last advance. All tobaccoists in the city are prepared to stonily reject ten cents for Virginia cigarettes any longer. Each purchaser of cigarettes Saturday morning was informed in the price change in order that he would not be taken by surprise Monday. Here is the new scale of prices:

Ten cent cigarettes—two packages for 25 cents.
Fifteen cent cigarettes—two packages for 35 cents.
Twenty cent cigarettes—25 cents a package.

Twenty-five cent cigarettes—30 cents a package.
The price of tobaccos and cigars will also be affected.

Wires from the eastern tobacco companies were received by retailers in the city Saturday announcing an increase in the wholesale price and suggesting the above retail table which all retailers will have to adopt or lose money.

Sale of Potted Plants Saturday, May 4th

The Ladies Aid of Irma are holding a sale of potted plants in A. A. Dickson's hardware store on Saturday, May 4th. The ladies will also serve ice cream and cake, and coffee and sandwiches. Everyone is extended a cordial invitation.

Steam Boilers Have to be Registered

Owners of steam boilers in the Province should make themselves familiar with the new provisions of the Act Respecting Steam Boilers passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature.

The Provisions of the Act affect all owners of portable and semi-portable boilers. All such steam boilers must be registered with the Department of Public Works in order that a license may be secured to operate them. A numbered license plate is issued which must be fixed on the boiler. The cost of the license is $7.50. It runs for the balance of the year. A penalty in the form of a fine up to $50.00 is imposed for the operating of boilers for which licenses have not been secured.

Provision is made for the regular annual inspection of boilers as well as for special inspection when necessary and for the issue of inspection certificates. Boilers may not be operated until they have been inspected. There is no charge for the inspection of registered boilers.

Woodland Dairy Station Reopened

Mr. O. F. Younghammer, traveling representative of the Woodland Dairy was in town last week reopening their branch at Irma. Mr. L. Guiltner has been appointed representative for Irma and Kinsella, being at Irma Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, the other days at Kinsella.

Ladies Aid to Hold Annual Meeting

The next meeting of the Irma Ladies Aid will be held in the church basement on Wednesday, May 8th at 2.30 p.m. As this is the last meeting of the year and election of officers. All ladies interested in the work are invited to be present.

Signed, Mrs. J. A. Tripp

Vast Issues Depend Upon the Welfare of Our Men!

Cheer Up and Thank God for the Y.M.C.A.

TRY to picture yourself in the muddy cold trenches after exciting days and long nights of mortal danger and intense nervous strain. Rushing "whiz-bangs" and screaming "cool boxes" are no respecters of persons. You are hit! But despite shock and pain you still can face the long weary trudge back to dressing station. Weary, overwrought and depressed, you are prey to wild imaginings of that other coming ordeal with the surgeon. There are other "walking wounded," too! You must wait, wait, wait. And then—

Up comes a cheery Y.M.C.A. man, the ever-present "big brother" to the soldier, with words of manly encouragement. Close beside the dressing station the good generous folks at home have enabled him to set up a canteen. He hands you biscuits, and chocolate or coffee.

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or "fighting spirit," of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King! Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

War and Food

No. 13—CHEESE

Always noted for its nutritive value, cheese is doubly important now as one of the most satisfying of substitutes for the beef and bacon which are gradually disappearing from the table in most Canadian homes.

Fifteen or twenty years ago the standing of an Ontario country in dairying was based on its volume of cheese production. But this basis of calculation no longer holds because other lines of dairy industry than cheese-making have made enormous strides in the last decade or two. Chief of these are the whole milk and powdered and condensed milk trades.

Despite the growth of these rival trades, however, cheese is still the largest single line in Ontario dairying. The value of the cheese output of the province in 1916 was $23,653,445, nearly $5,000,000 above the record of the year before and upwards of $9,000,000 more than for 1910. Canada as a whole has increased her export of cheese since the outbreak of war by upwards of 40,000,000 pounds.

Rich in protein there are few foods more sustaining than cheese and it might be used much more extensively than at present as a substitute for other foods needs for export. A very small piece of cheese has as much nourishment as a large portion of meat. It is an extremely important adjunct to the menu and might be more generally used.

Usually around the farm there is a good deal of skim milk on hand and the contempt with which the majority of people regard it is wholly undeserved. The preparation of cottage cheese is one method of converting skim milk into a more attractive and appetizing form of food. It is extremely simple to make and is wholesome and delicious.

Canadian cheese may justly be termed one of the war foods of importance for not only might it be used freely here but it is needed for export, and the farmer will make no mistake in augmenting the supply for home and foreign consumption.

Killing Without Injury

An Irish barrister was counsel in court for a man whose cow had been knocked down and killed by a railway train. The lawyer said: "If the train had been run as it should have been run, or if the bell had been rung as it should have been rung, or if the whistle had been blown as it ought to have been blown, both which they did neither, the cow would not have been injured when she was killed."

Royal Duke's Romance

Was One of the Most Cultured Sovereigns of Germany

Grand Duke Adolf, Frederick, who after a reign of fewer than four years, committed suicide. Like Ludwig, was one of the most cultured sovereigns of Germany. It was persistently reported in 1913 that he was engaged to marry Princess Patricia of Connaught, daughter of the Duke of Cornwall, late governor-general of Canada. The shattering of "Princess Patricia's romance" by the war was a popular topic in the gossip English weeklies some time ago, and may possibly be a clue to the mysterious suicide of the Grand Duke. His grand-mother, who died recently, the Matron of European royalty, was born an English princess, first cousin of Queen Victoria, and through this connection Grand Duke Adolf was on intimate terms with the British royal family and had a host of friends in England.

His talents, handsome appearance, splendid horsemanship (he was famous as a long distance rider) and reputation for courage made him the beau ideal of German princes, and great things were expected of him when he ascended the throne just before the outbreak of the great war.

THE ONLY MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Their use teaches her that she is absolutely safe, that they never fail to give relief and that the little ones do not dread taking them. They do not castor oil and other harsh purgatives. Concerning the Tablets Mrs. John M. Weaver, Blissfield, N. B., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and have found them so good I always keep a box in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

German Countess To Expose Junkers

Years Before the War Broke Out the German Autocracy Against the United States

The Friends of German Democracy in New York announce that revelations showing how for years before the war broke out the German autocracy schemed against the United States, are in the possession of the Countess Alida von Krockow, American-born, now the widow of a German count. The countess was expelled from Germany because of her opposition to the views of the pan-Germanist junkers, to which group her husband belonged.

Countess von Krockow is preparing to give her experiences, contained in forty-two carefully kept diaries, to the American public. The countess says she wrote an article exposing secrets of the German autocracy in an American magazine. It was published under an assumed name. Nevertheless, after months of espionage she was discovered as the authoress of the article and compelled to leave Germany. The countess, who lives in the Buena Vista apartments, Riverside Drive, said: "I was the only member of the immediate court who exposed the cause of America. In all the time that I was in Berlin I found a bitterness toward the United States among the ruling circles that amounted almost to an obsession. On this point I had many disagreements with my husband. 'I always tried to speak my mind freely and I always was outspoken in my convictions against the lust of world domination to evident in the upper circles of the court. Even on those occasions when the kaiser received us I refused to be muzzle and exerted my right to free speech.'

France Not Tired of the War

Not the Slightest Indication of an Inconclusive Peace

Dana Burnett, a Paris correspondent of the New York Sun, writes: One of the chief hopes of the German supreme command is that the nerves of the entente allies will hold out against such horror as modern warfare produces. From neutral Switzerland one hears the echoes of imperial voices whispering to their peoples that France is growing tired of the war. Growing tired of it all is sick to death of it. But if any man thinks that France is preparing to give up the fight, let him read the speech of M. Clemenceau before the chamber of deputies. Not since I have been in the country have I seen or heard the slightest indication of an inconclusive peace.

One soldier whom I talked to said: "This is without doubt the most unpopular war in history. Possibly the German people wanted it, though I doubt even that. Certainly none of the rest of us wanted it. It came; it was thrust upon us. We found it suddenly at our doors. Naturally we grappled with it. Those are the facts. You can't argue them away. You can't argue the Germans out of Belgium. I wish to God you could."

The further back from the lines you get the more complicated the whole matter becomes. That complication is called "politics." In the trenches the facts are very simple. We fight because it is the only thing to do. We kill the boche because it is the only way to stop him. When we have killed enough of him the rest of him will go home. That is all.

A few evenings later, as I was walking through one of the older sections of Paris, I stumbled upon a little Italian that is quite typical of France at war. In the doorway of a baker's shop stood a polli in trench helmet and greatcoat, with his water bottle slung across his shoulder and his knapsack, adorned with the inevitable hobnailed boots, upon his back. He was saying good-bye to his wife. Finally with a sort of gruff gentleness, he unclasped her arm from about his neck, kissed her on both cheeks and swung off down the shadowy street. When he had disappeared the woman went back into the shop, lighted a single candle, gas jet and prepared to receive customers. War or no war, the neighborhood must have bread.

War or no war, life must go on!

Wilhelm Not Napoleon

Napoleon carried the Tricolor to all the great capitals of Europe except three—St. Petersburg, Constantinople and London. The kaiser set out on a similar expedition, but all he has been able to do is to carry his flag to the capitals of some of the smallest nations in Europe—Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro and Rumania. He dreamed of a great empire stretching from Hamburg to Bagdad, but Bagdad is in the hands of the British and he seems likely to realize that dream that he did in the years before the war when the German railway in Asia Minor was under construction.—From the New York World

A Much-Sentenced Author

Remarkable Claim in the Introduction to a Book

The most remarkable claim I have yet seen in the introduction of a book—and introductions are often more startling than the books to which they belong—is that the author has been "condemned to death eight times" and "carries sentences aggregating more than five hundred years of penal servitude." The author in question is M. Daniel Blumenthal, an Alsatian by birth, who has been mayor of Colmar, for nine years and who has represented Strassburg in the Reichstag. The sentences, of course, have been imposed upon him by the German government, as the introduction puts it, "because he escaped from the empire to tell the world the truth about Alsace-Lorraine," and the book is "Alsace-Lorraine," in which he sets out the relations of the two provinces to France and to Germany, respectively, and contends that "there is but one way in which they can regain their health. They must again be united to France, their mother country, their rightful home."—Diarist, in the Westminster Gazette.

The Inventor of Margarine

Was a Substitute for Butter During the Siege of Paris

Margarine came into being as a substitute for butter during the siege of Paris. M. Moiré, a French chemist and scientist, invented it by mixing milk and beef fat. The article came into the world as a result of the war. Kellogg's, the foremost and best of all asthma remedies, stands upon a reputation founded in the hearts of thousands who have known its benefit.

Here's a reel of quick action: A Sedalia, Kansas, negro put a barrel of gasoline in a pocket, the cork came out, the fluid saturated his clothing, he struck a match on his trousers in the usual way, he executed a brilliant dance, and changed from dark brown to ashy gray while being saved.

The Country Store

In the evening, when the day's work is done, men like to stroll over to the village store to discuss the war, politics, or whatever may be of local interest.

It is under these circumstances that the health of the family is referred to and experiences are interchanged in regard to medicines that have proven particularly effective.

After Dr. Chase had introduced his medicines to the druggists he found that many who wrote to him for treatment lived many miles from doctor or druggist, and had to depend on the country store for their medicines. Thus it came about that Dr. Chase's medicines were placed in general stores, and you can now obtain them wherever medicines are sold.

Instead of trying to imagine what the man in the picture is saying about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we shall publish a letter from Mr. James Carr, who attributes his good health and that of his large family to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

18 Miles From Drug Store.

Mr. James Carr, Maynooth, Ont., writes: "About nineteen years ago I received an envelope containing two of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was doctoring at the time with two doctors and, as they did me no good, I used the pills, and by the time I had finished one box I was cured of the pain in the back and shoulders."

"We have great confidence in Dr. Chase's medicines. I have a family of ten children and have never had a doctor in the house for any of them. We live eighteen miles from a drug store, and find that these pills cure nearly all the ordinary ills by regulating the liver, kidneys and bowels. That we are all well and sound I attribute to their use, and I have recommended them to hundreds and given away many a box because I believe there is no medicine so good."

After long experience with Dr. Chase's Medicines we have found that people who try them are soon convinced of their exceptional merits.

We have published thousands of letters to give you an idea of the benefits others have obtained by their use, but if you are still skeptical we shall be glad to send you our

The latest Order-in-Council calling out men from 20 to 22 years of age, unmarried or widowers without children, has caused considerable unrest among those affected. We have in mind the young fellows on the farms who come under the Act. They are wondering if they will be called immediately regardless of their occupation which is now in the midst of seeding. While we have heard nothing to the contrary we believe that it is not the intention of the government to call out the young farmers until after seeding and the crops are well in because there are many young men in other occupations who come under the new order-in-council who could be called up first to fill the drafts. This would cause the least disturbance of food production.

In order to assist in and stimulate greater production the Provincial Government has divided the province into sixteen districts, and placed a representative in each. H. W. Scott, who had charge of the School Fair work last summer at Sedgewick and Alliance, has been given charge of the Electoral districts of Sedgewick, Wainwright, and Ribstone, with headquarters at Sedgewick. Mr. Scott states that the chief work at the present time is to see that those who have land ready for wheat, or land suitable for sowing wheat this year be not prevented from sowing it for lack of seed or labor. From present indications the supply of labor is going to be sufficient for seeding operations. The Provincial Department of Agriculture has opened Labor Bureaus at five points in the province, and while the demand for seeding is great, yet the supply would indicate that there would not be any reduction in the quantity of land sown this spring on account of labor shortage.

At the present session of the legislature an Act was passed allowing municipalities to loan money to needy farmers for the purpose of purchasing seed. Mr. Scott would like if those who are not able to make the necessary arrangements for securing seed to immediately communicate with him, stating their location, the name of the Secretary of the Municipality, and the quantity of seed required.

The supply of seed barley is scarce in many parts of Western Canada. If the farmers in this district have not already made arrangements for securing the quantity they will need they should do so at once. Additional barley for seed is still available in certain portions of the West, but if seed has to be ordered from outside the district, steps should be taken at once to secure it.

Amalgamation of Canada's Air Forces

Lieutenant MacNamara, Officer in charge of recruiting for Western Canada, advises it has been officially announced that the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Naval Air Service have been amalgamated and the new Branch of the service is to be the Royal Air Force.

It has long been realized that these two units have grown to such an extent that a third arm of the Service should be formed, namely, The Air, as distinct from the Army and Navy, and this has been carried out as from the first of April, 1918.

Figures as to the size of the Royal Air Force are not available, but some idea of the size of the Force may be obtained from the fact that the number of new machines put into commission each day is approximately the same as the total were in commission at the outbreak of war.

The demand for Pilots is consequently becoming greater every day and young men, between the ages of 17 and 30 years, would do well to write to the Recruiting Office of the Royal Air Forces at 282 Main Street, Winnipeg, for particulars of Service in the new Force, or to the nearest Civilian Recruiting Committee.

A distinctive uniform for The Force is being devised, but the details have not been arranged.

The same high rates of pay will obtain in the Royal Air Force, as have been allowed in the Royal Flying Corps.

BECAUSE the man I buy from in my Town helps support my school, my church, my lodge, and my home.
BECAUSE every dollar I spend at home, stays at home and makes more money in my community.

Mrs. Hall, of Vancouver, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Purvis this week. Mrs. Hall visited here two years ago with her mother Mrs. Geo. Purvis, who is now on the coast but is expected home this summer.

Strict regulations conforming to the order of the Canada Food Board are now in force at the King Edward hotel and the restaurants. The most notable change is the absence of sugar bowls and a strict adherence to meatless days. Outside of that the new regulations are working no apparent hardship on the average individual.

The high wind Saturday afternoon caused considerable loose property to change location, likewise some valuable Alberta real estate was travelling at a rapid speed in the air. Around town we noticed that the nicely piled lumber at the Alberta lumber yard was decidedly disarranged, and many boxes and barrels were chasing each other up and down the streets interspersed with papers and headgear of pedestrians who happened to get caught. No damage of importance has been reported.

Edward Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Richardson, in the Gilpin district, has developed a case of small pox, and he besides all the members of the family are under strict quarantine in order to prevent the spread of the disease as much as possible.

The local school board has taken steps to have all the pupils of the school vaccinated and so far about 75 children in the town and district have been vaccinated. Every child whether attending school or not should be treated as soon as possible as it affords protection from this dread disease of from five to seven years.

Our Allies Must Be Fed

DESPITE war conditions, we have not as yet felt the pinch of hunger in Canada. Consequently, it is difficult for us to realize the grave need for increased food production in order that others may be fed. At no time is Europe self-supporting in the matter of food. After nearly four years of war, our Allies are living from hand to mouth, depending entirely on the safe arrival of food ships from across the Atlantic.

Because of our comparative nearness to our Allies, and because of our wide, fertile areas, this continent must continue to feed Europe. If we fail, hundreds of thousands of people may starve and our armies be denied a conclusive victory.

A bumper crop, a record harvest and increased meat production in Canada will be worth the winning of many battles to the Empire and our Allies at this critical period.

Increased Production Imperative

Canada must raise for export at least 250,000,000 bushels of wheat more in 1918 than in 1917, to enable the Allies to maintain even their present restricted rations.

They shall NOT starve!—
make that your slogan.

Plans have been formulated which, on the authority of The Director of Agricultural Labor, positively ensure that labor will be provided when needed, to harvest the maximum crop. Authorities agree that the world-wide shortage of food will continue for years after the war. The farmer is assured a ready and profitable market for all the grain and meat that he can produce.

The Empire depends on the Canadian Farmer to "carry on."
